PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

This program provides incentives for residential water customers to replace current irrigation controllers with efficient weather-based controllers. Weather based irrigation controllers (WBIC) automatically alter the watering schedule at a residence based upon the weather. Funding comes from the Department of Water Resources (DWR) and Metropolitan Water District (MWD) of Southern California for the residential WBIC incentive program provided to Riverside Public Utilities (RPU) through an agreement with Western Municipal Water District (WMWD).

PROGRAM GUIDELINES:

- Customers must fulfill all program guidelines, program specific and general RPU program guidelines, to be eligible for incentives.
- Qualified units must be installed and in operation at the customer's service address.
- Incentives are given on a first-come, first-served basis. Rebate claims must be made within 90 days of WBIC purchase date shown on the receipt. WBIC must be installed before rebate is issued.
- A minimum of 98 percent of the WBIC's rebated must be verified as installed properly at the residential address recorded for installation. Riverside Public Utilities will randomly select participating customers for telephone surveys or in-residence inspections.
- Metropolitan (or their respective designated installation verification consultant) reserves the right to conduct installation verification of WBIC within Western's service area. Metropolitan may randomly inspect the WBIC installations reported by Riverside to establish the installation percentage.
- Incentive will be paid to the RPU residential water customer of record only. An exception may be made if the owner of the WBIC provides proof of purchase.
- Program is subject to change without prior notification.
